Camp Washington is on the Move!

JOSEPH GORMAN, COMMUNITY ORGANIZER

The Camp Washington Community Council won 2nd Place and a $250 prize last night for the Green Event at the 2010 Keep Cincinnati Beautiful awards ceremony. On Earth Day this year, Kao Brands provided nearly 100 employees to clean up, plant flowers, build a bench for our Little Garden project and, plant begonias and mulch areas in Valley Park. Kudos Garden Club coordinator Mimi Rook, members Sarah Hayes and Deborah Grayson, and Lori Cagle and Douth South from Kao Brands for organizing this event!

The Camp Washington Community Board earned the 2010 Stewardship Award from the Cincinnati Preservation Association for saving over 40 single family houses, several apartment buildings, since the Board's inception in 1975!

The Camp Washington Gateway Project at Hopple & Garrard won the Merit Award in the Society of Environmental Graphic Design category through the Cincinnati Design Awards. This was a cooperative project with the City of Cincinnati Dept. of Transportation and Engineering, CNBDU, United-Maier Signs, the Camp Washington Business Association, and the Camp Washington Community Board. Thanks to the City's Laura Martin for spearheading this application.

Cincinnati Horticultural Society recognized Deborah Grayson for her gardening efforts for the Doughboy Statue in Valley Park

Community Organizer Joe Gorman won 2010 Most Outstanding CDC Staff earlier this summer.

Bates Bridge Coming Down

JOSEPH GORMAN, COMMUNITY ORGANIZER

The I-75 Improvement Project is truly underway. With remarkable speed, the Bates Avenue bridge across I-75 going to Central Parkway is quickly being taken down. Contractors are working through the night on the bridge. Tree crews using a massive crane and daring-do tree specialists have taken out several big trees at the end of Massachusetts by Bates. The pedestrian bridge at the end of Colerain Avenue has also been removed. Over the next few years, we will see a major change in the Millcreek Valley, including a massive Metropolitan Sewer District (MSD) project in Fairmount.

The Hopple Street Bridge project will begin after Mitchell Avenue Interchange project is completed within three years.

2962 Henshaw For Sale

PAUL RUDEMILLER, EXE. DIRECTOR, CAMP WASHINGTON COMMUNITY BOARD

The community board has saved and renovated this beautiful 3-bedroom house across from the Shell station. This house has a fenced in yard, drive way, and all new interiors, mechanicals inside the house. Perfect for a young couple with children!

GED School Thankful for Jason Hecker

JOSEPH GORMAN, CAMP WASHINGTON COMMUNITY SCHOOL DIRECTOR

Seven years ago, the community school became affiliated with the Literacy Center West because its director, Jason Hecker, ran an awesome program and we needed help to stabilize the school. Twenty graduates later, and dozens of folks working on GEDs or tutoring services, our school is stable. Jason has touched the lives of hundreds of young people, helping many attain successes in life. The cool thing is that those folks will help others succeed.

Jason recently got married and he and his new bride are off to San Francisco. Good wishes, my man!
